

Membership Form

Professional Members, $60 per year, receive notices and access to our online Bulletin and have work represented through Maine Fiberarts. Professional members may send up to 20 high resolution digital images via CD (please don't email) of your artwork, shop or farm, or of you at work in your studio. Images are shown to curators and to art enthusiasts, and are used in curating exhibitions at Maine Fiberarts. Professional members may also send up to 200 copies of ONE printed piece (brochure, business card, or postcard) for display. Professional members receive discounts on workshops, may have notices posted in our Bulletin, may sell work through us, and can list new and used items for sale in our online Maine Fiberarts Tour/Resource Guide.

All members of Maine Fiberarts may be included in our Resource Guide, which, together with our Bulletin and Folio, make up our Maine Fiberarts Tour, www.mainefiberartstour.com.

Supporters, Advocates and Patrons, $100-$1000 per year, receive all the benefits of Professional Members. They may also keep a portfolio book of images at our Gallery and up to 30 digital images on file.

Corporate Members, $250, receive all the above benefits plus special recognition on our website. Corporate members partner with us to keep fiber in the public eye.

NOTE: By submitting Maine Fiberarts' membership form, payment and/or photographic images, organizations and individuals give Maine Fiberarts permission to use the images for publications, advertisements, and the Internet. Organizations and individuals also waive any and all rights to inspect or to approve such photograph(s); release Maine Fiberarts from all claims arising from the use of photograph(s); and understand they will receive no remuneration for this.

New memberships extend one year from payment; thereafter upon anniversary date.

About Membership

Our Topsham Gallery — Statewide arts nonprofit Maine Fiberarts is headquartered in an 1840's brick building in Midcoast Maine. See fiber artwork, digital image libraries, event notices, and photos of Maine studios and farms. Meet fiber artists! Discover our resource library, handspun yarns, Tour Maps, and limited edition crafts. Gain an insider's tips to cultural travels in Maine.

Fiber Friday — On the first Friday of each month from 10 a.m. to noon, we gather with folks to stitch and share. People bring their work and exchange tips and treasures, good books, or shows they've seen. All are welcome to join us.

Gathering — We represent artists and craftspeople who spin, knit, weave, felt, bead, make paper, sculpt, design clothing, quilt and crochet, as well as the farmers who raise cashmere, wool, alpaca, mohair and llama. We use our in-house database and online Resource Guide to recommend where to take a class, visit a studio, find a farm, or take in an exhibition.

Maine Fiberarts Tour — our highly-popular printed Tour Map has been moved online where it is readily updated and continually expanded. The Tour is mobile-friendly so can be accessed from your phone or tablet, as well as your computer. Find studios, farms, galleries, spinneries, manufacturers and more and plan your self-guided trip around Maine. Coming up: stay tuned for info about new Mini Tours!

Maine Fiber Resource Guide — Our interactive, searchable online directory to fiber studios, farms, yarn shops, mills and galleries posted at www.mainefiberartstour.com. Inclusion in the Guide is free to all who work in fiber in Maine. The Guide creates a dynamic and user-friendly resource with which to plan outings.

Fiber News Bulletin — Our online bulletin, posted at www.mainefiberarts.org, features news, workshops, exhibitions, calls for entries, and other good items to keep you informed about Maine's fiber community. Members may send us items to add to this continuously-updated resource or may post their own news. (See the bottom of our website's Home Page.)

Fiber Folio — Photographic journeys to fiber destinations posted at folio.mainefiberarts.org. See profiles of craft workshops, fiber festivals, cool clothing shops, and studios. Check "Stories" to see more journeys and plan your trip to Maine!

Workshops — Throughout the year, we offer hands-on workshops about fiber techniques and marketing. Workshops include: "Sewing Spring Garments," "Spinning for Shawls," "Getting Work Photographed," "Using WordPress," and others. Check www.mainefiberarts.org for workshop listings.

Become a Member — Members receive early notices of gatherings, artist talks, exhibitions, workshops, statewide and regional news, and more. Professional Members receive discounts on workshops, may sell through our special events, have images of their work represented through us, and receive opportunities to exhibit work. Find membership info at our website, overleaf, or be in touch.
